Summary of career

- Following qualification as a Chartered Certified Accountant, he started a management consultancy practice specialising in Local & Health Authority finances and special investigations.
- In 1994, he started an accountancy practice providing business advisory, audit, accountancy, and tax compliance services to SME businesses throughout the Southwest of England.
- From 1994, he commenced specialising in expert witness work and over the next 12 years developed a specialist forensic accounting practice. In this role, he has covered corporate finance assignments involving due diligence, business sales and acquisitions, mergers, and acquisitions, together with various litigation support assignments.
- In October 2006, he became managing director of S W Forensic Accounting Ltd with responsibility for the development of the firm's forensic accounting and litigation support services.
- In October 2008, he was appointed a Partner in BTG Forensic (a division of the Begbies Traynor Group), subsequently leaving in September 2011 to set up Matrix Forensic.

The following are examples of cases undertaken by Matrix Forensic:

Commercial litigation

Reports on the loss of profits, breach of contract and warranty claims, business, and share valuations; dissolution of partnerships and other related claims.

Example: Report in respect of a claim against a landlord following an unlawful eviction, exclusion from the business premises over ten years, damage to infrastructure, stock & equipment, loss of profits & consequential losses in excess of £1m.

Example: Report in respect of losses arising from a catastrophic fire at a nightclub allegedly caused by workers instructed by the landlord. The case was dropped following the identification of accounting irregularities by the claimant and associated fraudulent insurance claims.

Example: Report to the shareholders of a Middle East company on accounting irregularities relating to multi-million stock loss and the diversion of business assets to a third-party company.

Professional negligence

Advice or opinions on liability in respect of the conduct and competence of accountants, auditors, tax advisers, or financial services professionals.

Example: Report on the professional negligence of an auditor of a company following the reliance placed by the purchaser on the audited accounts that contained material misstatement of sales and assets, leading to a loss of £2.6m.

Matrimonial

Assisting in ancillary relief proceedings; reports on the valuation of business assets/shares; assessment of financial resources; division of assets.

Example: Report as SJE for the valuation of a minority interest in an offshore trust company (Jersey). Undertaking a detailed review of the company's operations and projected income streams resulting in a valuation of £30m. Gave evidence in The Royal Courts of Jersey

Forensic insolvency

Reports on claims under the Insolvency Act and Company Acts, including wrongful and fraudulent trading, illegal dividends, disqualification of directors and related matters.

Example: Report on the liquidation of the UK subsidiary of a USA registered company. Identifying irregularities in the valuation of stocks and the diversion of sales by the directors.

Estate & probate

Assisting executors and personal representatives in administration & winding up of estates; management of estate accounts, completing inheritance/income tax returns; preparing final financial accounts & distribution accounts for disposition of estate to the beneficiaries. Preparing forensic accounting reports for the management of the estate in contemplation of civil recovery proceedings.

Example: Report on the loss of income to the estate following abuse of position by administrator & subsequent unauthorised capital distributions in favour of a family member.

Example: Report on the loss of capital of an elderly family member following abuse under a Power of Attorney by an heir to the estate.

Cryptocurrency investigations

Investigations into cryptocurrency accounts and associated investments; related capital gains tax issues & tax fraud

Example: Investigation following cash seizure, tax evasion, and overseas interests through cryptocurrency accounts.

Alternate dispute resolution

Appointment as a Mediator and Expert Determiner for private individuals and companies.

Example: Mediation relating to a dispute over the ownership of land used by the residents of a housing estate for parking. The contention was the land was beneficially owned historically by the original family. Mediation resulted in the transfer of the land into a trust.

Example: Expert Determination on behalf of the shareholders of a family-owned company who had been locked in a dispute for five years over the value of shares. The Determination set the value for the shares allowing the family to complete the sale.

Criminal

Acting for the defence in numerous cases involving fraud, money laundering etc., together with the associated confiscation actions under the Proceeds of Crime Act.

Example: Acting on behalf of the defence following allegations that the CEO of the Shelter Box Trust abused his position by placing orders for goods through a related party company without considering other suppliers. The report demonstrated that the prosecution's forensic accountant's conclusions overstated any benefits. The defendants were found not guilty.

Example: Acting on behalf of the prosecution as an independent expert in respect of fraudulent trading, false accounting, and related charges. Provided lead evidence at Southwark Crown Court (first paperless criminal trial) in relation to the prosecution of the directors of Crown Currency Exchange in respect of a £20m fraud relating to foreign exchange losses to 13,000 victims. The defendants were found guilty.
